

Flexible Support for Real-World Family Services

Programs are being asked to do more with less—less time, fewer staff, and limited training capacity.

Nurturing Sprouts was created to meet those realities as a simplified, lower-cost alternative to Growing Great Kids (GGK). While both share a foundation in relationship-based, strengths-based, and trauma-informed practice, Nurturing Sprouts is designed for organizations that need flexible, easy-to-use support with minimal training and implementation demands—while GGK remains a more comprehensive, high-support parenting curriculum.

Why Simplicity Matters

When tools are easier to use, support becomes more consistent—and more sustainable.

Nurturing Sprouts helps reduce complexity so professionals can focus on meaningful interactions with families.

With the right tools in place, the impact is clear:

- ✓ Easy onboarding
- ✓ Consistent delivery
- ✓ Confident staff
- ✓ Strong caregiver understanding and connection
